DEATH OF REV. JUNIUS T. HARRIS.

The CHRONICLE is grieved to announce the untimely death of Rev. JUNIUS T.
HARRIS, in Durham yesterday morning.
When in Durham last week we heard with profound regret that he was quite sick at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. JULIAN S. CARR. He had been over in Person county to hold a Quarterly Conference and reached Durham very weak and unwell. He went to bed, and though tenderly nursed and given every attention, it proved to be his death bed.

Mr. HARRIS was a native of Davidson county, the son of a Methodist preacher, and was forty-six years of age.
He was left an orphan at an early age and, dependent upon his own exertions, he became a shoemaker and made shoes at Thomasville for the Confederate soldiers until he was 16 years old. Then he enlisted in the army, surrendering with Johnson's army at Bentonville in 1865.
He had pluck and ambition and was determined to get an education. His career ought to be an inspiration to every poor young man.

Returning from the war, he took a shoemaker's bench and tools and went to Trinity College. For five years at this seat of learning he struggled to obtain an education, paying his way by mending the boots and shoes of his fellow-pupils. With all this, he could not pay all his expenses, but had to go in debt. After leaving, he paid every cent of his indebtedness. At college he was a room-mate of Rev. FRANK L. REID, D. D., who furnishes us this incident showing the "stuff" of which Mr.
Harris was made. He graduated with high honors, and within ten days after became pastor of Cary (Methodist) circuit, and has since served Magnolia circuit, Hillsboro station, Lincolnton circuit, Mooresville circuit, Statesville station, and St. Paul station in Goldsboro.

He then served three years as Presiding Elder of Goldsboro District and at his death was closing out his second year as Presiding Elder of Durham District. In September last he was elected to succeed Dr. DIXON as superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. In accepting the work he said in noble words:

"I hope I fully appreciate the spirit and importance of the work to which you call me; a work 'no wise man would seek and no good man could decline.' I can only say, in accepting this position, that under the blessing of God, and with the prayers and help of the good people of North Carolina, I will perform the delicate duties you assign me as best I may be able.

These were noble words, and the honest, earnest man who penned them wrote from his heart. He was starting out well in his new work, and his fine business qualifications and his Christian character made him admirably suited for the responsible position at the head of the greatest charity in the State.

During his career as a Methodist minister more than a thousand were received into the church, and its every interest was conserved. At the dedication of St. Paul M. E. church in Goldsboro, in September, he preached the morning sermon, BISHOP GALLOWAY failing to arrive on time. At that time a correspondent wrote the CHRONICLE:

Dr. Harris preached one of the ablest and most practical sermons it has ever been our good fortune to hear, and it was a great pleasure to his many friends in this community to have him once more among them.

A good man has fallen in the harness.
The church and the State lose in his untimely death. Peace to his ashes. His family have our warmest sympathy in this hour of deep distress.

IN DARKEST AFRICA.

The visit of Mr. STANLEY to this country will make an exploration into the delightful pages of his "In Darkest Africa" both timely and interesting.
Those who have read this book agree that it is very like a well-kept flower garden—enter it when you will, you can always gather a bouquet of fresh and fragrant leaves and blossoms, according to the season. Mrs. LOUIS E. AMIS, at Oxford, is the agent of this charming book.
If any of our readers desire to purchase it, full information will be given by addressing Mrs. L. E. AMIS, Oxford, N. C.

We see it stated that Mr. T. C. MIL-LIKAN, of the Randolph Courier, has taken charge of the Greensboro North State. It is an excellent publication, and is by all odds the ablest and fairest Republican paper published in North Carolina in our day.

IT IS SENATOR GORDON.

The Alliance in Georgia is still honest.
It refuses to be sold out to the Richmond Terminal or any other railroad company.

Mr. PATRICK CALHOUN "managed" to get Dr. MACUNE, editor of the National Economist, to go down to Atlanta to urge his claims for United States Senator; and he "managed" to get Col. L. F.
LIVINGSTONE, president of the Georgia State Alliance, to hustle and try to bring in the brethren to his support; and he "managed" to secure the enthusiastic support of the Southern Alliance Farmer, the Alliance organ in Georgia; and he "managed" to get the Alliance can-cass, so-called, though not half of the Alliance men attended it, to endorse his candidacy. He managed all this with the same skill that he managed to secure the consolidation of railroads under the Richmond Terminal.

But these great influences could not get the cherished Senatorial plum, notwithstanding he hollowed himself hoarse in advocacy of the Sub Treasury bill and all other Alliance demands. With all this he couldn't manage the old-fashioned, honest members of the Legislature.
The fact that he did not have the endorsement of Col. L. L. POLK, President of the National Alliance, is conspicuous, and shows that Col. POLK was not in the scheme to put a railroad manipulator in the Senate as the special champion of the Alliance.

Of the members of the Legislature three-fourths are members of the Alliance, and if they had been united or nearly so on Mr. CALHOUN, his election would have been assured. But he could not even command the vote he got in the census. Why? The people were heard from and their representatives dared not vote for Mr. CALHOUN. Of the 213 votes he received only 25—and yet Dr. MAC-UNE and Col. LIVINGSTONE declared officially that he was THE Alliance candidate. Where were the Alliance men?
They became disgusted at the action of MACUNE and LIVINGSTONE in trying to run a representative of monopoly down their throats and they openly rebelled. Some of them supported Norwood and some HINES, and many of them flocked to the support of Gov. Gordon who, though he did not favor the Sub-Treasury bill, stood with the farmers upon every other measure.

The good name of the Alliance men in Georgia is saved. It cannot be said that they sold out to the railroads, or that they could be led by the nose by MAC-UNE and LIVINGSTONE who sought to deliver the Alliance into monopolistic hands.

This election has demonstrated one good thing: That while the members of the Alliance want unity and harmony, they will not sacrifice principle to obtain it.

It also teaches a lesson which is quite as valuable: The rank and file of the Alliance are loyal to their selected leaders and will follow them when they are honest, honorable, wise and true to the principles of the order; but they will not follow them an inch when they seek to carry them into the folds of monopoly, or make them give the fruits of victory to their enemies. In the Georgia can-test the prominent Dr. MACUNE, editor of the National Economist; Col.
LIVINGSTONE, Congressman-elect and President of their State Alliance; and the Southern Alliance Farmer, the State organ—all these influential agencies combined to make the Alliance men lie down and let the Richmond Terminal juggen-aut run over them, but they rebelled and repudiated the false leadership.

The Alliance is saved. Its members are honorable. They are true to principle.
They will trust their leaders, but not follow them blindly.

Gov. GORDON—eloquent, brave and patriotic—is in honor bound to do all he can to bring relief if possible to his people who trust him and love him. We believe he will seek to represent them and do all he can for them.

The University Magazine is before us.
It sustains its reputation, containing articles not only interesting, but of permanent historical value. Among them we notice papers on "The Chair of History" by Hon. JOHN S. LONG LL. D.; "On Wide Awake Rip Van Winkle" by Col. JOHN D. CAMERON, showing the recent rapid advance in our State prosperity; on the "South and West Unioning" by VICTOR S.
DEYANT, a very intelligent discussion; A notice of C. J. ISAAC ERWIN AVERY, introducing a well written sketch from the MORGANTON STAR, and a letter from GEN. JUBAL A. EARLY showing how Col.
AVERY and the brigade under his temporary command entered the Federal works on Cemetery Hill at Gettysburg.

We note also Col. CREECY's "Grand Father Tales of North Carolina," and Dr.
WEEKS' sketches of the University students who lost their lives in the great civil war. Good judges say that this Magazine contains more matter worthy of permanent preservation than any of the same class in the Union. The Editors MESSRS. PEARSALL RANSOM, COLLINS and DAVIS deserve credit for this very interesting issue. It is worthy of the help of the Alumni of the State.

The tongs appear to have possession of the Oklahoma Legislature. A bill has been passed by that extraordinary body making it a criminal offense for a newspaper to even insinuate anything against a man's character whether it is true or not. Oklahoma is a good place for COL. DUDLEY to move to. At this time PARNELL might find it a safe place.

A TRULY GREAT MAN.

MR. POWDERLY has been re-elected Grand Master Workman of the Knights of Labor. He has shown himself to be one of the ablest and most versatile of men. He has convictions and courage, and when he writes he wields a trenchant pen. His recent article in the North American Review against the Force bill was the strongest and brightest argument against it that came to our notice.

He has had a stormy time as the head of the Knights of Labor, and he has to thank only his own wisdom and moderation that he has not been ruined.
Treachery within and misrepresentation without the ranks have sought to destroy him and give a death-blow to the order. He has been equal to every emergency, and has developed a capacity for leadership and profound ability that has astonished the world.

We lift our hat to MR. POWDERLY and wish him abundant success in the effort to educate and lift up the toiling millions.

PARNELL MUST RETIRE.

It is said that Mr. PARNELL still desires to hold on to the leadership. He cannot do it. The moment that the verdict granting a divorce to Mr. O'SHEA was rendered, that moment Mr. PARN-ELL was forced to retire from the leadership of the cause of Home Rule. The New York Herald truly says:

The public sentiment of Ireland will run in this direction when the people recover from the shock Ireland, more than any other country on the globe perhaps, is jealous of its homes. These homes may be humble, poverty may knock at the door every day in the year, but nobody can deny that they are pure and chaste to a degree.

The Charleston News and Courier has settled the political troubles between HILL and CLEVELAND most satisfactorily.
It advises that HILL be elected Senator and then made chairman of the National Democratic Executive committee. He would thus have, in the first instance, all the honor to which he is entitled, and in the second be in position to cover himself all over with glory by electing Grover CLEVELAND President of the United States. The scheme is a good one. Does Governor HILL consent? That's the only trouble, but its enough.

Just now we are offering some remarkable values in several lines of Dress Goods.
Notwithstanding the recent advance in the prices of many lines of dress fabrics, we are able to offer our patrons goods at even lower prices than before the rise.

These goods were secured with ready money, from those who had to sell, and we place them upon our counters, and our customers shall reap the benefit of the low prices.

100c.

We begin with a good Henrietta as low as 25c., and this very goods has been bringing 25c.

121-2c.

At 125c. you can get a nice Diagonal. This you invariably pay 15c. for.

25c.

At 25c. you can buy an all wool Tropic or Flannel. Then a line of Stripes and Plaids, very stylish—at same price.

25c.

A line of beautiful Henriettas at 25c., in all the correct shades for this Fall's wear, and 35c. has been the figures on these goods.

50c.

This price gets lovely all wool Henriettas (and all-wool stuffs have advanced more than anything else), 49-inch wide, in the best shades, and as many of them as you want.
These facts are worth considering.

THE SUCCESS OF THE

Provident Savings Life Assurance

SOCIETY

-OF-

NEW YORK

Is attracting wide attention, for the following reasons:

1st. The increase in the amount of new Insurance in 1889 was 66 per cent. over that of the previous year.

2d. New business in 1889 nearly twenty millions of dollars.

3d. The ratios of payments for Death Claims and Expenses to amount at Risk are LOWER than those of the oldest and largest Life Insurance Companies of New York; and the Ratios of Assets to Liabilities in the Provident Savings Life are LARGER, being $206 for every $100 of Liabilities, while in the three largest of the New York Companies the Ratios are as $127, $118 and $108 to every $100 of their Liabilities.

4th. Life Insurance at ACTUAL COST, that brings insurance within the reach of many heretofore unable to carry it.

5th. It never costs one-half the price charged for it in "Best Old Style Life Companies," whose experience proves that hardly 39 per cent. of their Premium Receipts were necessary to insure the lives of their Policy-holders; while the balance was used

FOR SOMETHING ELSE

besides insurance.

6th. Past experience shows that the better the plans of the Society are known, the greater its income becomes.

To know what these plans are, call at the Company's office in Greensboro, N. C., or on any of my Agents in the State.
